

Priority List Of Requirements:

1. Create basic layout of the Home Screen

- ignore: "Workout" text
- instead of "New Routine" button, it will say "New Workout"
- The layout of the "routines" will be similar, "Workout Name" + Exercises, but we can ignore this for now or just make a basic list with dummy text.
- We could also copy the bottom bar for different functions later (have dummy pages) (maybe put Settings button here)
 - "Start Empty Workout" is a good idea but we will probably not implement until later
 - The "New Workout" button is the first thing we should work on next

2. Create "Workout Overview" Screen

- Here where it says "Finish", ours will say "Start".
- The fields of "Uptime" and "Total Weight" will be similar but may look different
- We mainly just need the "Add Exercise Button" for now which we will work on next

3. "Add Exercise" Window

- To start, we can just default to a basic custom String the user can enter.
- Searchable exercise library can be implemented later
